

Indian summer is evidently not on the weather programme this year.

Madison has electric light on the brain, and has organized an electric light company.

The suicide mania is rapidly on the increase. There are hundreds who would rather chance the other world than longer bear the ills of this.

General Grant doesn't like New York very well. Great men and society belles are heading for Washington, and the general wants to be among them.

The postoffice department at Washington estimates that 4,000,000 postal notes, representing at least $10,000,000 will be issued during the year.

Henry Irving, the distinguished English actor, will appear in Milwaukee during his engagement in this country. He will probably appear in Milwaukee the latter part of November.

The Rev. Matthew A. Fox, of the village of Oregon, Dane county, died on Tuesday night at the age of 75 years. He was born in Ireland, graduated from Trinity college, Dublin, became an Episcopalian clergyman, and emigrated to Indiana in 1830, where he became a Presbyterian minister in Dane county. He was an excellent type of the pioneer preacher—erect, strong and manly—and known in early days all over the state. He was the father of Edwin and James Fox, of Milwaukee, and brother of Dr. William H. Fox who died at Oregon last Saturday night.

As a candidate for speaker of the next house, we fear that Mr. Sprague is not making much headway. Here comes an interview with Congressman John Winans, of Janesville, Wis., the successor of "Charlie" Williams, and he says that he will vote for "Sunset" Cox for speaker, and that of the five democratic votes from Wisconsin, Randall will get but one—Deuster, Chicago Journal.

Mr. Winans has been incorrectly reported in regard to the speakership. He has not made up his mind for whom he will vote for speaker, and he claims that he has not told any one that he would vote for Cox. He thinks quite favorably of Cox, but has not pledged himself to him or any one else. He says that he will cordially support Randall should he secure the democratic caucus nomination.

Mormon missionaries never were so energetic in working up a Mormon boom as now. Several sections of Indiana and Illinois are infested by them, all bending every energy to delude ignorant people into joining the saints in Utah. The Inter Ocean wisely suggests that if there is not law enough to protect society from such miscreants, surely there is enough law to punish their contumacious color of their principles, and if that won't do, ropes can be tried. These missionaries are also going to Europe in large numbers to draw up recruits for the Mormon ranks in Utah, and an eastern paper makes the timely suggestion that Mormon immigration should be stopped, which would be like cutting off the tail of a snake.

The country will wish Mr. Dudley, commissioner of pensions, the greatest success in wedding out the disreputable claim agents at Washington. That city is comparatively full of pension agents who have unlimited greed for gain. They will prosecute any case regardless of its character, and charge well for their trouble. The clamor for an increase of pension is mad, wholly by the impudent agents who care nothing about it except for the fee there may be in it. These agents have become so disreputable that their efforts to work up a discontent among the soldiers in regard to pensions, will not avail much. Mr. Dudley should sit down heavily upon a good many pension agents in Washington, and so flatten them out that they can't rise again in their old business.

To-morrow Mr. Alexander Mitchell will reach his home in Milwaukee from Europe, and a reception and a banquet will be given him in honor of his return. The banquet will be given at the Plankinton house, and only one hundred invitations have been issued. The invitations were:

RECEPTION AND BANQUET
Given to
HON. ALEXANDER MITCHELL
By the Citizens of Milwaukee on His Return from His European Trip.
The pleasure of your company is requested Friday Evening, Oct. 26th, 1883.
At the Plankinton House, at 8 o'clock.
This invitation is enclosed in a beautiful envelope which contains a card of admission to the banquet hall. But there is another card in the envelope, which is a little joker, and this says that the price of the banquet tickets are $10 each—$20 for a man and his wife. But the 100 invitations will be accepted, as that many persons can be found in Milwaukee who are willing to pay $10 each for a square meal at the Plankinton.

The official statement of the amounts received and disbursed by the state treasury for the year ending September 30th 1883, is published showing that amount in the general fund September 30, 1882, was $361,220.08, while during the year just close $1,005,092.17 were received, making a total of $1,366,312.25. The disbursements from this fund during the year ending Sept. 30, 1883, amounted to $1,296,472.40, leaving a balance on hand of $70,839.85. At the date of the last settlement, Sept. 30, 1882, there were $102,412.58 in the trust funds, and the receipts during the year were $999,963.70.

the total being $1,103,376.68. The disbursements from these funds were $922,242.93, the balance on hand being $240,133.75. Of the trust funds, $2,887,129.91 have been invested up to date; of the university fund, $222,898.33; of the agricultural college fund, $286,686, and of the normal school fund, $1,210,378.00, making the total investment of trust funds $4,613,087.93.

AN AWFUL CRIME.

Suicide of an Ohio German After Taking the Lives of His Wife and Three Children.

The Fearful Discovery Made by Two Farmers on Visiting the Home of a Neighbor.

MURDER AND SUICIDE.

A MOODY DEED.

NEWCOMENSTON, O., Oct. 25.—There is great excitement in our little town. A farmer has just arrived bringing with him the news of a horrible crime committed about ten miles northwest of this place. Albert Frazer murdered his wife and three children and then terminated the fearful tragedy by putting an end to his own miserable existence. Many people have left for the scene of the crime.
Frazer resided on Fryers Creek Valley. J. Judy, a brother-in-law of Frazer, was talking to Frazer on Sunday evening, when the latter told him he was downhearted, that he was too ill to work and did not know what would become of his family. This was the last time Frazer or any of his family was seen alive. A neighbor named Neysbaum came to Frazer's house, and finding that the doors locked and curtains drawn, concluded that all was not right. He and several neighbors climbed in the window, and in one corner of the room lay the dead body of Mrs. Frazer with her throat cut from ear to ear, and by her side was her youngest child with its head smashed. In a little crib cot lay the two oldest children with their heads crushed. Near by Frazer with the side of his face blown off by the discharge of the gun. He must have loaded the barrel and then held one end in the flame of a lamp that stood near by and the other end in his face. He was a German, thirty years of age.

THE WHISKY INTEREST.

Congress Will Be Asked to Extend the Time on Goods in Bond.
WASHINGTON, Oct. 25.—Ex-Commissioner Isaacs said to a reporter, in reply to some questions, that the whisky men, desired that Congress should take definite action in the bonded tax matter immediately upon its reassembling. Mr. Isaacs said that the distillery men will not ask an extension upon goods including that to be made in the future, but will emphatically insist that an extension be granted on the whisky now in warehouses and to come out within the next two years. He said that the non-action of the last Congress had caused some very bad feelings, but they would be insignificant compared with what is to come without some help is given the whisky interest of the country. There are, he said, 70,000 million gallons to come out of bond during the next two years, which means $60,000,000 of tax must be paid, and of course the market can not receive this large lot in that time.

Illinois Masons.

CHICAGO, Oct. 25.—The thirty-first annual assembly of the Grand Council of Royal and Select Masters of the State of Illinois met Wednesday afternoon in the Masonic Temple, No. 76 Monroe street, with John O'Neil, Grand Master, in the chair. The officers and representatives of thirty councils were present. Charters were granted to four new councils, two of which are in this city. The following officers were elected: George W. Curtis, of Urbana, M. P. Grand Master; D. B. Elliot, of Paris, Deputy Grand Master; G. J. Shepley, of Paxton, P. J.; J. E. Hunter, of Monticello, C. of G.; J. S. McClelland, of Deatur, Conductor; Charles Fisher, of Springfield, Treasurer; G. W. Barnard, of Chicago, Recorder; Rev. Henry G. Perry, of Chicago, Chaplain; John P. Ferns, of Chicago, Steward; A. R. Robinson, of Springfield, Sentinel.

Great Bulls Running the Stocks.

NEW YORK, Oct. 25.—The bulls took complete control of the stock market Wednesday, and it was no secret that Vanderbilt, Villard, Gould and Jim Keene had joined hands and rushed to the rescue of the stocks. New York Central, Lake Shore and Lackawanna were the great favorites, and a warning was sounded to look for a boom in Great Transcontinental within a few days. Northern Pacific sold up under Villard's personal direction, and bears great and small sought shelter in great trepidation. Chicago & Northwestern danced up a peg, and St. Paul remained steady. It was discovered to-day that great blocks of stocks of all kinds had been bought under the bear rule of last week and taken from the street. Chicago is ordering from 20,000 to 50,000 shares of miscellaneous stocks daily.

Probable Murder.

CLINTON FALLS, Ind., Oct. 25.—Tuesday night two strangers called for supper at the farm-house of James Crawford, a man living alone with his wife near here. While she was preparing it one of them struck her down with a club and at the same time his companion knocked Mr. Crawford down in the same way, when they stole fifteen dollars and left the aged people dead as they supposed. Crawford recovered consciousness and gave the alarm. The latest from the victims is that both will die.

Disagreement in the Cabinet.

NEW YORK, Oct. 25.—The Herald's Washington dispatch says: "The reported disagreement in the Cabinet is not only true, but the cause, it is said, involves two members, one of whom emphatically complains of unwarranted interference with the affairs of his department by the head of another department. The President having assumed the entire responsibility for the cause of the alleged grievance, the complaining member of the Cabinet has only to gracefully yield or resign."

Arkansas Cotton.

MEMPHIS, Ark., Oct. 25.—Cotton and corn in the territory south of this city are turning out better than was expected a month ago. Picking is going on rapidly, and the bulk of the crop will soon be out of the fields. Over in Quitman County, Mississippi, where the crop of cotton was expected to be fully one-half short, it is doing much better. Two-thirds of an average, being the result of the picking as far as it has gone.

A MAIDEN'S FIDELITY.

A Virginia Girl Shields Her Betrayed After His Refusal to Marry Her, and Receives in His Stead a Bullet Fired at Him by Her Late Father.

WHEELING, W. Va., Oct. 25.—Not long since Miss Nannie Wells, the daughter of a prosperous farmer near St. Mary's, Pleasant County, became a mother without the usual wedding-ring accompaniment. She charged a young man named Brown, living in the neighborhood with being the father of her babe, and begged him to make reparation by becoming her lawful husband. This Brown refused to do, and was thereupon arrested on a charge of illegitimate parentage. In some manner he succeeded in effecting his escape from the constable. Recently he returned, and with his brother-in-law, and took up his residence, and requested an interview with Nannie and her sister. The meeting took place in the yard, and while talking over the matter, the young men were confronted by Mr. Henderson, who ordered them to leave at once. They refused to go, whereupon Henderson returned to the house, picked up a rifle, and took deliberate aim at the author of his daughter's disgrace. Just at this juncture Nannie, who, with her mother and sister, had been breathlessly watching the scene, gave an exhibition of woman's heroism by springing forward to avert the rash act, thereby risking her own life to save that of her seducer. As she rushed forward Henderson fired, and the bullet, striking the point of her shoulder, followed the blade and entered the body, making a dangerous wound. Henderson, unappalled by this, clubbed his rifle, and, rushing on Brown, struck him, now aroused to the fact that he had a desperate man to deal with, wrenched the gun away, and after a tussle, got into a position where he used it over Henderson's head in a telling manner. Brown, it is understood, now says that if the girl recovers from her wound he will marry her. The sympathy with Miss Wells is general, as it is believed that she is far more sinned against than sinning.

A FARMER'S RICH FIND.

A Tin Can Containing Over $30,000, Supposed to be the Hidden Plunder of the Bender Family, Found near Cherryvale, Kan.

CHERRYVALE, Kan., Oct. 25.—The scene of the murders enacted by the notorious Bender family near Cherryvale, Kan., is again the theater of interest and excitement. For a long time past the farm occupied by the Benders has been owned and run by J. C. Murphy. About ten days ago Murphy, while plowing, unearthed a sealed tin can, which, upon being opened, was found to contain a lot of greenbacks, silver and gold, amounting in all to more than $30,000. It is supposed the money is the proceeds of a few of the many robberies and murders of the Benders. Murphy is now in the "find," and has engaged a lawyer and proposes to keep the spoils. It is said his claim will be contested by friends of the victims of the Benders, who assert they can identify a portion of the money. It is further claimed that a legal fight will throw new light on the Bender horror, revealing many things concerning the family heretofore unknown. Parties are said to be digging here and there on the farm with the hope of finding more money, the belief having gained ground that a large amount of treasure is still concealed in the vicinity.

Postal Affairs.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 25.—The report of Second Assistant Postmaster-General Emery for the fiscal year ended June 30, 1883, made to the Postmaster-General, shows the cost on star, steamboat and railroad routes to be $19,334,999, an increase over the last fiscal year of $353,849, or 1.9 per cent. The increase in mileage for 1883 over 1882 is 1,297,787 miles. The railroad service cost $13,857,510; the steamboat service, $507,021; star service, $4,739,475. The estimate for railroad service for 1885 is $12,735,216.

Figures collected for the money-order division of the Post-office Department show that the net revenue from domestic money-order transactions during the fiscal year 1883 was $811,704. The receipts on account of foreign orders were $99,923.

Universal Time.

ROME, Oct. 25.—The report of the committee of the Geodetic Association was adopted by the meeting after an animated debate. ## The Senators Race in Iowa.

DES MOINES, Oct. 25.—There are certain indications that Senator Allison will not be returned unopposed to the United States Senate by the next General Assembly. Already there are prophecies of a contest, but not sufficiently strong to indicate a struggle equal to the memorable event of 1872, when his vigorous opponent, Senator Harlan, was elected. Mr. Allison still holds in reputation the bitterness of that contest, and that he is yet anxious to get even with the faces of politics which overwhelmed him then. Ex-Governor Carpenter and Alram Price, Commissioner of Pensions, are also mentioned as probable candidates. Ex-Governor John E. Gear is also talked of, and many think that he is the only one who could muster a formidable opposition to the Senator from Dubuque. Governor Sherman and Hon. N. C. Deering are also spoken of.

A FEW TIMELY REMARKS!

Years ago we almost continually had traveling stores disposing of accumulated shelf worn stock. Of course we sold goods for "50 Cents on a dollar," and there were plenty of people anxious to secure the bargains?—Not the second time, however. Well we accomplished our object, and then established a permanent store in one of the busiest towns of the state, the cash sales of which exceed those of any Clothing Store in Janesville. This outlet enables us to buy goods in such quantities as to command the very lowest prices; to take advantage of any large lot that a dealer may wish to close out at a bargain, and to keep our stock free from unsaleable goods that take up room and interest on money. Under these circumstances we can, WILL and DO sell goods cheaper than any house in this part of the state; we furnish a much larger assortment from which to make selections and are the only house in Janesville that ever dared to mark goods in plain figures and stick to the price every time, thereby extending a "uniform treatment" to all. The time of our salesmen is not spent in "wrestling" over the price, but in doing their utmost to please customers, and money will be returned for any goods misrepresented by them. Our Fall and Winter stock is now ready for your inspection and you are perfectly safe in looking it over without fear of being importuned to buy or make an offer. The prices, in plain figures speak for themselves and we think talk pretty loud. Come and hear them talk. Respectfully,
M. C. SMITH & SON, One Price Square Dealing Clothiers.

Wednesday's Testimony Does Nothing Toward Establishing Carpenter's Guilt or Innocence.

Arrival of the Leading Counsel for the Defense—The Accused Man in Better Spirits.

The Important Evidence Katie Madden Is Said to Possess—Reward Offered for Information.

The Tragedy at Lincoln.

NOTHING OF IMPORTANCE DEVELOPED.

LINCOLN, Ill., Oct. 25.—Wednesday's proceedings in the Zora Burns investigation were uneventful, and the testimony as a whole was more favorable to Carpenter than on any previous day. Yet while nothing has been accomplished toward proving Mr. Carpenter's guilt, it is equally true that not an atom has appeared to prove his innocence or explain away the damaging points cited. On the other hand, rumors as to his guilt are as thick as ever. New witnesses are promised who are to testify that a girl, presumably Zora Burns, was seen around the elevator Saturday and Sunday nights. One of these, Katie Madden, a domestic at Mrs. Phelps', was seen. She only remembers that last Saturday night, at about seven o'clock, she was walking west on the track going to a church meeting, when she saw a woman who had been walking ahead of her turn toward the elevator and disappear. She did not know the woman nor what she wore, and though she did not remark the fact, said no one to her.

Mr. Carpenter's friends are now thoroughly aroused, and every bit of ground touched by any one for the prosecution is immediately after examined in his interest. Detectives are out in all the cities from which information has been received. Chief Bechler, senior counsel for Carpenter, arrived from St. Louis, and ex-Congressman James Robinson, of Springfield, who has been engaged for the defense, also reached the city. Mr. Carpenter is in better spirits than he has been since his confinement. There are several reasons for this—getting used to his isolation, the security of his confinement, the fact that the inquest was adjourned until Friday owing to the funeral of John Martineau, Carpenter's late partner, at Hartsburg. It must be admitted that outside of a sudden and miraculous discovery or revelation, the end must be the acquittal of the man, the charge of murder, though it is the stain upon his name is wiped out, it will be through some means equally as marvelous.

State's Attorney Forrest said that he thought the coroner's investigation would be closed Friday. By that time he hopes to have so closely woven the web of circumstances against Carpenter that there will be little doubt of his guilt, even though the missing articles are not found or Zora Burns' whereabouts Saturday night and Sunday are not learned.

The Sheriff has offered a reward of one hundred dollars to any person who will furnish information as to the whereabouts of Zora Burns Saturday night and Sunday, or any information "in reference to her value and clothing."

No additional light was thrown upon the mystery surrounding the death of Miss Zora Burns by the witnesses before the coroner's jury. The witnesses who saw Carpenter Monday, and noted nothing peculiar in his manner, emphasized nothing of the morning's session.

Coroner J. T. Boyden described to the jury the circumstances under which the body was found. He said the only things found in the pockets of the dress were a black cotton glove, a hair-pin and a pair of three matches. He saw Carpenter look at the body when it was exposed to public view in the coroner's office for identification, and talked with him. Carpenter seemed indifferent, asked no questions, and offered no assistance or suggestions. When informed that the girl was pregnant, Carpenter replied to questions addressed to him by the coroner, that he could not remember when Zora Burns came to his house to work, or when she left.

John Spellman, a Lincoln grain merchant, who has known Carpenter for fifteen years, called at Carpenter's house on the Sunday afternoon of the murder, and did not find him in. Later in the afternoon, about five o'clock, Carpenter called at Spellman's house and took him in his buggy to Carpenter's office, and Carpenter went in through the rear door, leaving it wide open. James M. Longan heard the report of the murder Monday morning in Hartsburg, and mentioned to Carpenter that a girl had been found with her throat cut. Carpenter merely replied that he heard nothing, and Lincoln before his hearing on the Friday preceding that he would be in Hartsburg Monday to finish some work.

A number of witnesses were examined at the afternoon's session, but nothing was elicited throwing further light on the mystery.

A Grand Day at Valparaiso.

NORTHERN PACIFIC.

Injunction Suits Brought Against the Company to Prevent the Issue of the Second Mortgage Bonds.

NEW YORK, Oct. 25.—Three suits have been brought against the Northern Pacific Company by Dunning, Edsall, Hart & Fowler, and by Anderson & Howland. The object of the suits is to prevent the issue of the new second mortgages. The ground taken is that the original act of incorporation prohibits the company from making any mortgage or issuing any construction bonds without the consent of Congress. Congress has its consent in 1870 that the company might issue a construction bond and secure them by a mortgage. Under that consent Jay Cooke's mortgage was made, which was subsequently foreclosed. The position taken by the plaintiffs is that the authority of Congress once exercised was exhausted, and could not be repeated. An order to show cause, with a stay, was granted in two suits, and the argument will be heard November 1. The officers of the company say the suits brought by J. J. Bradley, who says he is the holder of common stock, is of no importance. He asks that the company be enjoined from issuing bonds or making any mortgage until Congress has its consent. This consent was given long ago, and Bradley has no standing. He has two hundred and fifty shares of common stock transferred to him Saturday to bring the suit.

It is understood the Northern Pacific bond syndicate controlled the best legal talent obtainable before taking the new second mortgage bonds, and it is stated that no injunction can stand under the charter of the company if three-quarters of the preferred stockholders assent to the issue of it.

Frozen Wheat.

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., Oct. 25.—Experiments made here by the millers show that while the frozen wheat does not make first class flour it is not entirely worthless for milling purposes. Samples of flour made from the damaged wheat are very soft and make up sticky in dough. It lacks strength, and although of good color and appearance is not up to the standard of the best grades. Of millers' flour, it is the best grade. The frozen wheat can be used in about the same proportion as other damaged wheat, and it used sparingly would make but little difference. Wheat containing 10 per cent of frozen grain is about equal to No. 2 regular, and can be used in about the same proportion. The millers have not found it is claimed by some that the grain is much more desirable than the millers are willing to allow, and that they are taking a great deal of it in.
